

EGGSUNDAY

ANYTIME ANDA

On: Mumbai-Pune Highway

Inaugurated about a year ago, this restaurant's name combines the Hindi and English words for proprietor Rohit Saigal's favourite all-day snack. "We have regulars coming in from Mumbai and Pune," says a proud Saigal, whose own post-late-night-partying recipe, "Spice-Egg Sunday" is one of the dishes that draws regulars to the Mumbai-Pune expressway outlet of the eatery.

With plans to open branches in Oshiwara in the next two weeks, and "then in Goa, perhaps", Saigal is thrilled with the response he receives for trademark dishes like, "Bomblette," a simple Masala Omelette prepared in a customised hot-pan, but hopes to draw attention to other, more unique recipes on their menu. "Prices of dishes range from Rs 35 to Rs 75, and any of these make a delightful snack at any time of the day," says Saigal. The eatery has an open-viewing-kitchen to promote customer interaction.
